CHAPLAINCY: The New Missional Frontline

Presentation by Revd Jonathan Woodhouse

Chaplaincy operates on the edge of the church but at the heart of the Gospel

This is the message from Jonathan Woodhouse, former Honorary Chaplain to the Queen (QHC). Jonathan was the first-ever Baptist to become Chaplain General.

'There is an explosion of chaplaincy ministry in the UK, from the community of faith to the community of work and play'. Jonathan will look at the emerging opportunities of chaplaincy in every locality and region. He sees Chaplains as pioneers in ministry.

'Chaplaincy is a soft-skilled, inclusive, relational and incarnational ministry offering spiritual support, pastoral care and ethical questions in contemporary public spaces.' His presentation will introduce effective ways to listen and discuss contentious issues with people of different faiths and no faith in fluid, life situations.
